In my site Google Force, I suggest this tool to my user. With this tool you can check the Android Version History and the Tester version history. But I would like to have this tool in my site but I need your help to make it works with my site. I am asking you some questions, so I can create this tool and show it to you to test it. It would be good to read your comments and your answer to my questions. How to get the Google Force with out the Google Account? When I get your answer, I will send you the Google Force tool to you for review (just one free Google for test). I need my user to test it. In your answer to my questions, you will create a file. It is important to note that any files created are for you and you alone, and can be removed at any time. How to send the Google Force to you? When I send the file, I will ask you some questions, you will answer them and I will send you the Google Force. What is your full name or username? What is your real email address? How many files do you want to send? Is it okay? Thank you for your help. See some screenshots of the Google Force below: Download Google Force for free The Google Force will help you to have an overview of the Android versions in your site and the Tester versions, but don't forget, you will need to enter a user in order to submit the data. The Google Force is updated every week and you can download it free of charge. When you want to use the Google Force and you have already one account, you can have a question to the Google Force and you get a file to test it. In the question, you will have to enter all your username and password, then you will see how your site looks and you can upgrade or upgrade the Tester Version, but you must have your own user, not one that you have create. How can I upgrade my site so I can have a Tester Version and a Google Force? If you want to give a good answer, you must take the time to read this document. It's not easy to upgrade your site so you can have a Tester Version and a Google Force. But it is very important to do it. When I talk about upgrade
